FIRE OF THE YEAR: Trinity Church burned on a cold, raw morning in February, 1963. After calculation ("If each Episcopalian takes up 20 inches of pew space, how many . . .") and debate ("shall we go all-out on re-building?") Trinity decided on a minimum-expense plan for the reconstitution of its church. For a review of the year's outstanding events, see This Is Princeton.

This Is PRINCETON

THE BACKWARD LOOK
What Did We Do In 1963?

With a new year just beyond the crest of the next hill, Princeton paused this week to look back over the year that was about to end, and to recall just what it was that made "Princeton, 1963."

The memorable event of the year was, of course, the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, an event that transcended the local issues that seemed so important until that tragic day. The flags of Princeton were raised only last Sunday from half-mast, as the community and nation emerged from the one-month period of national mourning.

Together? Within the borders of the single community that is Princeton, 1963 brought the closest examination that has yet been made of possible consolidation of the community's two component parts.

On January 1, Township Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman, who will retire next Tuesday after six years on Committee, said in his New Year's message that "one of our objectives during 1962 was to improve relations and cooperation between the Borough and the Township.

And in the year that was to come, "cooperation" was indeed a key word. In April, Robert V. Dilley was named executive director of the "Joint Committee on Municipal Operations," charged with exploring the implications of consolidation. Mr. Dilley's 48-man group had a "suggested deadline" on December 1, but at present writing they are still in the study stage.

Soon after the Dilley Committees were named, Borough and Township school boards announced their own parallel studies. Would the recommendations be . . . merger of the two districts? consolidation? continued separation? The questions are still under examination.

The spirit of cooperation seemed to dim, however, as the year ended, with Borough and Township engaged in polite disagreement over the school the Borough wants to build on Township land.

Up and Up. That word "build" was The Word in Princeton in 1963, without any doubt. Just look at the record.

Palmer Square lowered Upper Pyne and started the girders going on its center-of-town office building . . . 194 Nassau fell to the wreckers for another office building . . . Princeton Hospital announced plans for a seven-story expansion . . . the University drew up blueprints for a seven-story office building, moved Woodrow Wilson Hall as casually as a child would move his blocks, built five undergraduate dormitories, finished the Woolworth music center and discussed the possibility of moving the Pennsylvania Railroad Station.

Meanwhile, the Hun School started two new buildings, the Township added to Riverside and Littlebrook schools, the Borough voted $5,000 for architectural studies of a new Borough Hall and American Can began building on its Township plot.

A shopping center went up in West Windsor, the Frazee-Griggs-Midway Tavern buildings came down on Hulfish Street. A Princeton landmark was laid to rest when "The Hall" restaurant closed on January 18 (There were even funeral services to mourn the departed!)

And Princeton looked ahead to an important new building as Borough and Township purchased land for a new public library, to be erected on the corner of Wiggins and Witherspoon. (Does Princeton need a new library? It cost $5,000 in repairs to shore up the present building for the safety of 1963's readers.)

Public buildings were not always discussed so harmoniously, however. Throughout the year the contentious question of public housing for the elderly was a news staple. At the year end Borough Council had approved in principle 50 units on Harrison Street land whose owner still does not wish to sell.

There altered the Princeton picture in 1963. Trinity Episcopal Church was gutted on February 13. The Maney Tree Shop burned to a cinder in late summer. Dodd and Kerr, the Studebaker agency went out of business as the result of a fire in January.

Concerned by the "demolition compulsion" cycle two young Varsity graduates formed a "Preservation Committee under the protective wing of the Residents of Princeton. This Committee's concern for the gracious heritage of Princeton's past produced a fine exhibit of photographs in Borough Hall arranged in commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Borough's founding.

Politics and a Circus. Water and politics joined to make news in 1963. The Public Utilities Commission approved sale of the Princeton Water Company to the Elizabeth Water Company. Mayor Henry Patterson, vice president of Elizabethtown, was elected to the Board of the Princeton Water Company and political opponent asked for his resignation on "conflict-of-interest" grounds. It was a burning issue to January 1963 in January 1964 scarcely an ember would remain.

Election. Left Borough and Township still Republican but the Democrats managed to find Joseph Strayer on Borough Council, the first Democrat elected to that body since 1941.

The community was not solely occupied with quiet municipal detail, however. Along in the spring as the sap began to rise the town was treated to what TOWN TOPICS called a "Roman circus," when the domestic problems of Barbara and J. Seward Johnson burst the bounds of the Johnson home at 75 Cleveland Lane. For some months, charges and counter charges and counter-counter charges filled the news columns but by summertime the case had dribbled away.

And then there was the May Hunt. The cream of the crop can go out at a moment's notice, said TOWN TOPICS of the rioting undergraduates. The two leaders of the riot served five days in jail and three of them paid $40 fines each.

"Let's Play." Undergraduate imagination had its delightful side too. Princeton will chuckle for a long time over the Great Train Robbery, when four masked undergraduates on horseback swept down on the dinky and carried their dates off in a whirl of squealing delight.

Young townsfolk with considerably less flair subjected at least two homes to the kind of party crashing that leans all too literally on the word crashing."

If Princeton had suitable recreation facilities for youth, could such delinquency be prevented? The Community Park recreation plan was spread out before Princeton residents at a packed enthusiastic hearing in the spring and a survey of high school students showed that most of them wanted "a place to go for dancing, cokes and just hanging around."

Youth was served in 1963 in other ways. The Princeton Study Center was formed in January and the Princeton Junior Museum in November.

"We Shall Overcome." Deeply concerned over erupting racial problems, a group of Princetonians formed PAIH. The Princeton Association for Human Rights. PAIH members organized a demonstration against Mississippi's Governor Ross Barnett when he came to Princeton for a controversial appearance in October. "I respect the right of the unpopular to be heard," commented Mayor Henry Patterson.

The Princeton Housing Group obtained signatures from 3,672 Princeton families who support "open occupancy" housing. Six times more than 200 Princeton residents' have eled in Washington on August 28 for the March on Washington." "I was proud to have gone," said Linda Blattenberger, TOWN TOPICS teen age commentator on the March.

Highlights in Sports. Even before the year had started, sophomore Bill Bradley of Crystal City, Mo. was drawing capacity crowds to Dillon Gymnasium with his picturesque brand of basketball at its best. Princeton was involved in a dramatic race to the finish, catching Yale at season's end, beating the Blue in a playoff and entering the NCAA Tournament.

Post season action proved disappointing to both Princeton and Princeton High School as each lost in the first round. Coach Tony Borzok's Little Tigers finished their regular schedule with a fine 14-4 mark.

A CROWD WAS THERE . . .

But Only One Bidder. It took 16 minutes on Friday to sell the Nassau Street School. The minimum bid of $550,000 was made by Princeton University, the sole bidder. The rest was silence.

The Borough Board of Education's formal acceptance of the university offer is expected to take place at its next public meeting, January 28.

"Probable Development." The 2.6 acre site and building will cost the university a total of $1,425,000. A clause in the bidding agreement specifies 25 annual payments of $35,000 each towards Borough school expenses — in addition to the amount bid.

"It is probable," said Dr. Robert F. Goheen, university president, in a statement issued after the sale, "that at some future date we shall have to seek a development of the Nassau Street frontage that will produce income and thus help offset the annual payment on this property for which we are now obligated."

President Goheen noted that the purchase price "stretches severely the University's current resources."

In 1965, Title to the school and land are to be transferred in 1965, upon completion of the Borough's elementary school building on Walnut Lane. The university plans to use the existing school building to help relieve the need for additional classroom and research facilities. The William Street side of the lot borders university property.

As the Nassau Street frontage is already zoned commercial, the university has a flying start on income-producing ventures at the site.

NEXT TOWNSHIP MAYOR: William L. Wilson is scheduled to be named mayor of the Township by his fellow committeemen at Wednesday's reorganization meeting, succeeding R. Kenneth Fairman.

Auction. About 40 interested parties, officials and the curious attended the school sale. Widely advertised, it drew inquiries from as far away as Florida. All prospects but one, however, were cooled off by the terms of purchase.

In fact, at Friday's sale most of the time was devoted to a formal reading of the terms.

NEW POSTMASTER?

Speculation Is All. Since the announcement two weeks ago that Postmaster Charles R. Murray would retire on December 30 Princeton has been speculating on his possible successor.

Thorn Lord, New Jersey State Democratic Chairman, told TOWN TOPICS this week that he and Congressman Frank Thompson had discussed the matter informally but had not reached a decision.

The name most frequently mentioned in connection with the political post is that of Edward J. Sweeney, 181 Harrison Street, just elected to his third two- year term as Assemblyman.

"I am interested in the job," Mr. Sweeney said this week. "I have had experience in administration and in labor-management relations and I think I could do the job."

Mr. Sweeney has been with De Laval Turbine, of Trenton, for 23 years in labor-management liaison. He has been a worker in the state Democratic party for a quarter of a century.

Charles Farrington, Princeton attorney, has also been spoken of as a possible candidate, but Mr. Farrington has said that he is not interested. If no appointment is made by the end of the year, an acting postmaster will be named — possibly a postal inspector on an interim basis.

FLAMES GUT HOUSE

At 11 Murray Place. Flames from an extensive fire gutted two first floor rooms and did considerable damage Sunday evening to the structure of a home owned by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Black of 11 Murray Place. The couple, who lived alone, escaped injury from the fire which was detected shortly after 10.

Mr. Black later told firemen he had been asleep for about an hour and a half when he heard noise and went to investigate. As he opened his bedroom door, he was met by heat and smoke. Going downstairs, Mr. Black continued, he discovered the entire living room ablaze.

So rapidly had the fire progressed, Mr. Black said, that he had time only to go outside ty was the couple's pet dog with his wife. "It was a close call," he said. The only casualwhich had run upstairs to hide, only to meet death by suffocation.

Assistant Fire Chief Robert Mooney reported that the downstairs was gutted except for the kitchen. Two bedrooms upstairs and a large attic on the third floor were also damaged by the fire, water and smoke. The fire spread right up the side of the house, Mr Mooney said.

The fire was believed to have started in a bay window area of the living room, but its eause has not been determined. The fire virtually cremated the downstairs, according to Mr. Mooney. Where chairs and sofas had been, only charred springs remained.

Sub freezing temperatures turned the water to ice and considerably hampered the firemen. Firemen worked two hours before the blaze was completely extinguished.

Christmas Fund Needs Help

Despite gifts from nearly 300 contributors, the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund is running somewhat behind the total received last year at this time. The sum of $2,801.55 is at hand.

It is, of course, never too late to give, because the Fund provides assistance to Princeton children all year long. All expenditures are made by the Family Service Agency, which furnishes the case histories on which the annual appeal is based.

More children can be helped in the months to come if those who have not yet given will do so. Checks should be made payable to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund and mailed to P.O. Box 664, Princeton, N.J.

95% OF QUOTA

United Fund Nears Goal. "This year's United Fund-Red Cross campaign is within five per cent of its mark," were the words of Campaign Chairman Warren W. Wagner last Friday. "One more effort by volunteer solicitors — and, of course, by any businesses and citizens of the Princeton area — will put the campaign over the top for the fourth year in a row.

Results show:

Goal	$354,633
Raised	336,360
Needed	$ 18,273

Latest division totals show that the Research and Industrial group, under the leadership of Arthur N. Curtiss has achieved a remarkable 105% of its quota and therefore is helping greatly to offset some of the divisions which have been less successful to date.

The figures:

Special Gifts (G. Victor Davis and Hugh D. Wise, chairmen): $103,756. Quota is $115,000.

Research and Industrial (Arthur N. Curtiss, chairman) $120,901. Quota is $115,000.

Snowman's Bogeyman

When the sun
Comes out to play,
The timid snowman
Runs away.

The snowman had his day before the sun put in an appearance and the result was a good five inches — almost more than enough for those who began hoping in early fall for a White Christmas.

It will be here a while, protected by temperatures slightly below normal. There may be even be a bit more falling freshly this weekend.

In the spring, the University's two perennial champions won again. Ferris Thomsen's lacrosse team captured the Ivy League title for the seventh year in a row and John Conroy's tennis team retained its Eastern Association championship. At Princeton High, John Kownlski was named the year's outstanding athlete as he won letters in football, basketball and track.

Princeton made a strong run for football honors when the scene changed to fall. The Tigers won their first six in a row, ranking at that point as one of three unbeaten teams in the nation. The peak could not be maintained, however. Novenber losses to Harvard and Dartmouth dropping the Orange and Black to a tie for the Ivy championship with Dartmouth.

The year came full cycle and Bradley began where he left off, rewriting record books. On December 21, he set two new Princeton marks and broke three in the University of Kentucky Tournament (see Sports in Princeton, page 18).

People in the News. What names made news in '63? Princeton lost some of its names in the course of the year. Walter B. Jefferson, A. Dayton Oliphant, Alaclar Ol-

Moderator of the General Assembly . . . Dr. Alfred D. Summers retired. Herberl McAneny was elected headmaster of Princeton Country Day School.

Both banks chose new presidents. John P. Poe retired as president of the First National Bank and Ralph H. Mather succeeded him . . . William H. Cosby became president of Princeton Bank and Trust, succeeding George Cook.

And Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu came to town. Who will even remember who she was a year from now?

Theatre lovers gave McCarter its most successful season this fall. Ballet lovers welcomed a new Regional Ballet. Music lovers looked forward to Westminster Choir College's 1964 Tercentenary Music Festival.

Princeton's churches made news when three of them — the Presbyterian congregations — announced that they were studying the possibility of unification.

TODDY WITH THE CROWN

Holiday at McCarter. "The Hollow Crown," an entertainment by and about the monarchs of England, will be played at McCarter Theatre on Monday, December 30, and Tuesday, December 31 which is, of course, New Year's Eve.

As a welcoming gesture to the New Year and a toast to its own first New Year's Eve show, McCarter will serve free hot toddies to all.

A production of the Royal Shakespeare Company of Stratford-on-Avon and London, "The Hollow Crown" treats the follies and triumphs of the kings and queens of England, using speeches, letters, chronicles and poetry.

One section, for example, draws upon the old Anglo-Saxon Chronicle to describe the death of great kings. Another section employs the words of Horace Walpole.

Ann Firbank, who has appeared frequently with the parent company, will be featured in Princeton. Her associates and a group of five singers and will be Michael Gough, John Nettleton and John Warner musicians under Brian Priestman, former music director for the Royal Shakespeare Theatre.

A NIGHT IN SPAIN

With Greco's Gypsies. Jose Greco's "Bronze Gypsies of Spain" will warm the January precincts of McCarter when the famous dancer brings his full company of 25 Spanish dancers, singers and musicians to Princeton on Friday, January 3, at 8:30.

In contrast to other Spanish dancers, Greco does not confine his activities to the flamenco. His program incorporates a wide range of dance genres, including regional dances and folk expressions as well as flamenco dancing.

Besides Senor Greco himself, the company will feature Gitanillo Heredia and Maribel De Cirez, the "Bronze Gypsies" whose dance routines have been widely acclaimed. The blonde, American-born Lydia Torea will also appear for her third season.

"PAHR" HAS SEATS

For "White America." A block of orchestra seats has been reserved by PAHR (The Princeton Association for Human Rights) for the single Me-

SOUTHERN EXPOSURE: Ursula Andress on a bale of Galveston cotton in "4 For Texas," at the Prince and the Playhouse.

Carter performance of the off-Broadway play, "In White America," to be given Wednesday, January 15, at 0 30.

The block of PAHR seats, on sale in advance of McCarter's regular ticket sales, will be sold to raise money for various human rights projects. So far, 120 tickets from the 200-seat block have been reserved.

"In White America" is a dramatic, documentary history of the Negro in America from the arrival of the first slave ships to the present day. It has been written and compiled from original sources by Martin B. Duberman who is a member of PAHR and a professor in the University's history department.

In covering Dr. Duberman's play, one critic said, "One wishes that the President could order a command performance for Congress. The total impact is shattering."

PAHR offices at 170 Witherspoon are open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays. Telephone orders for tickets will be accepted at WA 4-2966.

ALL FOR WILL

Shakespeare for '64. The coming cycle of five plays will bring to 14 the total of Shakespeare's work performed in McCarter Theatre since the center for the performing arts was opened in 1960-61.

Honoring the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth, McCarter's professional repertory company will present "Othello," "Much Ado About Nothing, "Richard III," "The Taming of the Shrew" and "Romeo and Juliet."

"These five plays illustrate the full range of the 'infinite variety' of Shakespeare's tragic, comic and chronicle styles," said Arthur Lithgow, executive director of McCarter, commenting on the series.

No directors have been selected at this time, but it is possible that Mr. Lithgow himself will take at least one assignment. He is the founder-director of the Antioch Shakespeare Festival, Yellow Springs, Ohio, and similar festivals in Akron, Toledo and Cleveland.

McCarter has announced that, in addition to the usual Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening subscription performances, there will be a Sunday matinee subscription series. Details will be announced early in January.

FOUR AT THE TOP

Modern Jazz Quartet Coming. The M. J. Q., regarded for the past decade as just about the best ensemble of its kind in the jazz world, will play McCarter on Friday, January 17, at 8:30 p.m., thereby contributing to McCarter's "January Jubilee."

The Modern Jazz Quartet was formed in 1953. Its components parts are piano (John Lewis); Vibraharp (Milt Jackson); bass, Percy Heath) and drums (Connie Kay). In the past five years, the Quartet has made four European tours and has distinguished itself by being the first jazz group to play the Mozarteum in Salzburg and the Maggio Musicale in Florence.

Other "Jubilee" presentations include "The Littlest Circus," on Saturday, January 4 at 11 and 3:30 and classic guitarist Andress Segovia on Wednesday, January 8 at 8:30.

Everyone knows Segovia is the unchallenged master of the classical guitar but not everybody knows about "The Littlest Circus." Designed for children in kindergarten through fourth grade, the "Circus" is a dance pantomime satire, a dramatic musical composition without a word of spoken dialogue. The production was a favorite of children at the 1962 Seattle World's Fair.

PUPPETS AT NEW STRAND

On Saturday Morning, Returning to their Pennsylvania home after a tour of the European circuit, the Breish family troupe of puppeteers will give a performance of two playlets, "The Littlest Angel" and "The Magic Onion," on Saturday at 11 a.m. at The New Strand in Lambertville. All of the puppets are handmade by Mrs Louise Breish, who learned the craft from the famous puppetmakers of Nuremberg.

This will be the first non-film program at The New Strand since its opening two years ago. A special film program this weekend will include three of the most popular movies of the year, "Never on Sunday," "Sundays and Cybele," and "Divorce, Italian Style."

A new series of films for children at The New Strand will open on Saturday at 2 p.m. with the showing of "David and Goliath."

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE

"4 For Texas" (now playing) is a far-out Western, according to the dope sheet, with Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Anita Ekberg and Ursula Andress (a Spomerism if there ever was one). More likely it's a far-down Southern. It's locale is Galveston in the 1870's.

Sinatra plays the part of top gambling man whose security is threatened by the arrival of Martin as the hard hitting proprietor of a floating gaming palace. The duplication of their interests is complicated by their fondness for free-for-alls.

The fights-and-chases sequences, of which there are a great many, are all done with a certain lighthearted good humor. And there is, of course, a lot of Sinatra rat pack badinage — a kind of Bing Crosby-Bob Hope doubletalk which is at times quite amusing.

"4 for Texas" is dedicated to the idea that boys-will-be-boisterous. Hardly epic, but reasonably entertaining.

GARDEN

The Sword in the Stone (through Tuesday) is a very free translation of the charming book by T.H. White about the pre-King Arthur, a 12-year-old nicknamed Wart. The translation, made by Walt Disney, is a full-length cartoon feature which is much more Disneyland than Olde England in flavor.

The story is that which concerns Arthur's take-over of the throne because of a miracle Excalibur, a marvelous sword, appears in a London churchyard, stuck through an anvil and buried deep in a large stone.

Below the hilt there is written in gold: "Whoso pulleth out this sword of this stone and anvil is rightwise King of England." After everyone else in and out of armor has unsuccessfully tried to give it the heave-ho, young Wart pulleth, and Excalibur slides out as smoothly as a knife out of soft butter.

To fatten up the story, Disney has employed a cast of thousands of his trade-marked fauna — squirrels, owls, cats and even a tiger. "The Sword in the Stone" will delight anyone under seven, will divert anyone under 15, will leave anyone older about as unmoved as Excalibur is before the rightwise Wart grabs it.

THE ONCE AND FUTURE WART: Young Arthur, known as "Wart," pulls the sword Excalibur from its anvil-and-stone sheath and thereby becomes king. From "The Sword in the Stone," at the Garden.

FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS

Lecture on Joseph Henry. The new Junior Museum, already such a success that it has won from its many young visitors their highest possible accolade of "NEAT" as well as the very enthusiastic approval of parents, is about to score another first. With Princeton University it will present the first annual "Christmas Lecture" at 2:30 on Monday in the University's Palmer Laboratory the subject to be a recreation of historic experiments by the famed 19th century Princeton scientist Joseph Henry.

All children are invited to attend the lecture-demonstration by physics Professor Allen Shenstone. No tickets are needed and there will be no charge for the unique event.

Professor Shenstone, recent chairman of the physics department at the University and now retired, will duplicate some of the pioneering experiments in electricity carried on by Professor Henry over a century ago while a member of the University faculty.

An inventor and originator in his field, Professor Henry had a telegraph line in operation on the Princeton Campus several years before Samuel F. B. Morse perfected the telegraph for public use. On it Henry sent messages from his campus laboratory to his home, a major achievement of the time although the distance was little more than a hundred yards.

While Professor Henry's major academic specialty was in physics and electromagnetism, his teaching duties at Princeton were wide-spread — including the fields of chemistry, mineralogy, geology, astronomy and architecture, a teaching curriculum which in these days of such exact specialization and differentiation as physical mathematics and mathematical physics seems incredible. His home, built for him by the University (then the College of New Jersey), was constructed from designs he drew up. It is still considered to be one of the handsomest homes in Princeton.

Professor Henry spent some fourteen years on the Princeton faculty before being called, in 1846, to serve as the first secretary and administrator of the newly-founded Smithsonian Institution in Washington, a position he held until his death in 1878.

ROOMS FOR RENT

New Role for School Board. Five classrooms of Montgomery Township fourth graders may be based at Riverside School next year.

Princeton Township Board of Education is considering the Montgomery plea for help. The "one year crisis," as Township superintendent John McKenna described it, is caused by the delay on the part of Montgomery residents in approving the school building program.

"The shoe was on the other foot a few years ago," Mrs. Jess Epstein commented at the Princeton board meeting, "when we went out and rented space all over town!"

The suggested rental, supplied by Dr. McKenna, is $1200 per room. This fee would include space, furniture, utilities, custodial services, use of the cafeteria for lunch, the auditorium and gym on a space available basis, and the medical room for required examinations and emergencies.

However, the board weighed wear-and-tear, some advocating 5% depreciation charges. Richard Pearson, board president, suggested a middle of the road approach:

"On the one hand, there is the writing of depreciation into the cost of rental. On the other, we were prepared to underwrite the cost of having these rooms empty next year." The new wing at Riverside includes space for anticipated Township enrollments.

The board indicated its willingness to negotiate with the Montgomery school board. The rental figure may be revised upwards slightly to include a 2½% depreciation charge. Legal clearances are also pending.

THIS WAS THE START OF THE TELEGRAPH: Robert and Martha Sullivan look at some of the original Joseph Henry instruments in the University's Palmer Physical Laboratory. Copies of these instruments developed by the famed 19th century Princeton scientist, will be used in demonstrations by Professor Allen Shenstone as part of the first annual "Christmas Lecture" sponsored by the new Junior Museum and Princeton University.

Pay Schedules. The board approved a 12-month pay schedule for the teachers, at each teacher's option. The motion was presented by Mrs. Dorothy Schoch, chairman of the education committee.

The board will meet January 9 to adopt a tentative budget. The regular meeting will be held January 16. A public hearing on the budget is set for January 30.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions for the School Board election is 4 p.m. on January 2. The election will be held on February 11.

Applications for absentee ballots should be made at least eight days prior to election.

13 LOSE LICENSES

Under State Motor Laws. Thirteen Princeton area drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Motor Vehicle Division.

Hailed for speeding are Stephen J. Magyari 3rd, 18, 2445 Main Street, Lawrenceville; Melvyn Vest, 19, 214 Birch Avenue, Richard L. Silvis Jr., 19, 78 Leigh Avenue, Igor W. Grosdoff, 20, 168 Carter Road, Steven F. Derochi, 22, 3015 New Graduate Road, all 30 days; Charles A. Cherris, 20, Cranbury, Helen R. Bailey, 29, 17 Birch Avenue, both 60 days; and William W. Martenis, 54, 213 Ewing Street, two months.

Those who lost their driving privileges under the Point System include John M. Weber, 38, 108 Parkside Drive, four months; Thomas P. O'Leary Jr., 23, and Peter C. Wise, 23, both of Cranbury, both two months; and George A. Campbell, 31, Cranbury, and Timothy C. Huizing, 22, Washington Street Rocky Hill, one month.

BENEFIT DANCE SET

Mrs. Stuart Duncan, Chairman. Mrs. Stuart Duncan II has been named chairman of the 13th annual dance for the benefit of the May Margaret Fine Endowment Fund of Miss Fine's School. It will be held Saturday, February 1, in the school gymnasium.

Other committee members are Mrs. Thomas R.P. Alsop, Mrs. John D. Davies, Mrs. Peter E.B. Erdman, Mrs. George H. Gallup, III, Mrs. Richard M. Huber, Mrs. Bradford B. Locke, Mrs. James C. Sayen, Mrs. Walker W. Stevenson, Jr., Mrs. William H. Sword and Mrs. Everett P. Tomlinson.

TEA IS PLANNED

By Wells College Club. A tea for prospective students will be held next Friday, January 3, at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. J. Taylor Woodward, 15 Hodge Road.

The Director of Admissions at Wells, Jurgen A. Thomas, will be present to discuss the college with high school students and their mothers. Girls from the Princeton area who are students at Wells will also be there to assist Mr. Thomas in answering questions. Mrs. E. F. Hockings, Mrs. Carl R. Pope, and Mrs. N. B. Woodworth are assisting Mrs. Woodward with preparations for the tea.

ACCIDENTS RISE

With Advent of Snow. Snow and ice and slippery roads translate into accidents and the dockets of both the Township and the Borough reflect the advent of treacherous driving conditions. The Township alone had 12 accidents last week, five on Wednesday.

The most serious one, however did not occur in either community. Early Friday morning, Lt. Colonel Walter Hensel, 46, of Ewing Township, an officer in the New Jersey National Guard, was killed when his car smashed into a pole in Hopewell. Colonel Hensel was returning home from exercises with a National Guard unit in Plainfield when his car left Route 518 near Blawenhurg.

He was taken by State Police to Princeton Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Colonel Hensel is believed to have died of a broken neck. He was alone at the time of the mishap.

With cars leaving the road, skidding in circles and colliding into each other, the Princeton area resembled something of a huge Dodg'em found in amusement parks. Though the skids were sizeable, there were no serious injuries.

A car operated by John C. Baird, 25, 217-C Halsey Street, became a total loss Sunday when it skidded out of control on Cherry Hill Road. Some 50 sutures were required to close lacerations on Mr. Baird's neck and face.

Township police report that evidence showed that Mr. Baird's car had hit the shoulder at the side of the road, swerved across the opposite lane, struck a ditch and turned over. Some 286 feet of skid marks traced its winding end.

The day before, Frank Ferrara, 50, 275 Mt. Lucas Road, fell asleep at the wheel while driving on the Princeton-Kingston Road. His car — a 1962 Cadillac — went off the road hit a tree about 200 feet east of Riverside Drive. It was a total loss

Mr. Ferrara sustained multiple contusions, lacerations and chest pains. The mishap took place 2 20 a.m.

That afternoon, Homer A. Pritchard, 60, State Road, lost control of his car on State Road, not far from the intersection of Ewing. He was uninjured except for a slight laceration on the bridge of his nose.

Mr. Pritchard told police he swerved to his right to avoid another car, going in the opposite direction, which he thought was going to hit him. In swerving he struck a telephone pole and continued on for 144 feet after the impact before coming to rest.

En route his car glanced off a tree on the property of Mrs. R.K. Kilbon, 219 State Road. Police charged Mr. Pritchard with careless driving.

Six-year Old Hurt. The same charge was leveled against John J. Burns, 56, Great Road, who skidded on Cherry Hill Road Friday afternoon. Mr. Burn's son, John Jr., age 6, received a slight face laceration.

Police report that Mr. Burns failed to make a sharp "S" corve on Cherry Valley, went into a skid and crashed into a tree. The front end and windshield of his light truck was damaged.

On the 18th, Janice M. Przemelewski, Princeton Pike, and Marguerite Bachman, 26, Laurelton House, were the victims of skids.

Mrs. Przemelewski was only slightly injured when her 1963 sedan skidded on Mercer Road, turned completely aroond and rolled over before coming to rest against a tree. The car was a total loss.

Miss Bachman went into a skid on the Great Road near the Tenacre Foundation. Her car left the road and damaged about ten feet of hedge. she was uninjured

Car, Bus Collide. Early last week, a small foreign car driven by Mary F. Harmon, 28, of Lawrenceville, and a bus operated by William Byrnes, 43, of New Brunswick, collided on N. Harrison Street at an entrance to the Princeton Shopping Center. Mrs Harmon received a large bump on her forehead and complained of soreness about her neck

Mrs. Harmon, who was leaving the shopping center, told police that she misonderstood the signal to ston that was given by special officer Edmund Wells who was directing traffic. Police issued no charges.

More in the Borough. The Brough had its share of accidents, too.

On Sunday Ann V. Mellody, 54 Pine Street, lost control of her car makeing a turn from Pine onto Spruce and hit the porch and corner of a hoose at 82 Spruce owned by Robert Donald, 7 Princeton Avenue. She was charged with careless driving.

Early the same day, at 6:30 a.m. John Graham, 32, 108 Westerly Road, fell asleep while driving on Stockton. His car continued across the intersection of Nassau. Bayard Lane and Stockton and hit a tree after jumping the curb.

Mr. Graham sostained lacerations of the head as the impact damaged the end of his Volkswagen. He was charged with careless driving by Borough Police.

Finally, James R. Kerney, 17, 65 Palmer Square, was charged with careless driving when the car he was driving jumped a curb and hit a tree on Alexander Street near College Road, damaging the entire front end.

According to police, Mr. Kerney, reached for a key on the dash board while making a turn and failed to straighten the wheel. His left knee was cut

His coosin, Robert Kerney, 17, 142 Hodge Road and another passenger, Percy Wood, 19, Hodge Road, were also injored Mr. Wood's lacerated forehead required 30 sutures.

On Monday morning, William P. Sollivan, 43, of Trenton, was admitted to Princeton Hospital suffering from shock as the result of an accident at the corner of Harrison Street North and the road leading into the Princeton Shopping Center. His condition was reported to be satisfactory.

VITAMIN BUYER LEGAL

Identified After Purchase. As reported in TOWN TOPICS two weeks ago, three of Princeton's seven pharmacies were penalized for violations of the state pharmacy regulations. On July 16 they sold Poly-Vi-Flor without prescription to an undercover agent of the state board or pharmacy.

Poly-Vi-Flor, a vitamin supplement for children with a bit of flouride added, has not yet been declassified as a prescription item. The purchase of it without prescription, by the state's representative, known as "Undercover Agent A-1," therefore constituted a violation.

Because of erroneous information, it was at first believed that the agent did not identify herself after the purchase. It has been shown, however, by Maurice C. Goldberg, acting secretary of the state board of pharmacy, that the agent in fact did reveal her identity following the purchase.

The accused druggists were given an opportunity three months later to attend a hearing on the matter and to appeal the board's decision at the end of November. Since they then recognized their mistake, they did not attend the hearing.

In discussing the violations, one pharmacist who was not involved in the incident said, "We have about 20,000 drug items," (from Abdol to Zyradryl) "prescription and non-prescription, in the store. If manufacturers were required to print a large Rx on all prescription drugs, it would make for instantaneous recognition of new and less-critical items such as Poly-Vi-Flor."

The three Princeton pharmacists penalized as a result of the routine check in June are at Nassau Pharmacy, Marsh's and Liggett's. None of them questions the importance of such inspections as a method of keeping tabs on the dispensing of drugs.

SMITH CLUB SETS SALE

For 15th Straight Year, Smith College area alumnae are making preparations for the group's 15th annual auction to be held January 25 in Miss Fine's School gymnasium.

Mrs. William E. Schluter of Pennington is chairman of the auction, which will provide scholarships for prospective Smith students. Mrs. Frederick E. Blum of Princeton is assistant chairman and Lester M. Shaloff of Trenton has again been named auctioneer.

Last year, the auction raised $3,500 and over the past 14 years has collected nearly $26,500. Those interested in making a donation should contact Mrs. Sidney Souter at TW 6-0967.

Others assisting with the project include Mrs. John P. Talbot, gift table chairman; Mrs. J. B. Greene and Mrs. Everett Tomlinson, refreshments; and Florence H. Snow, information booth. Mrs. Kester R. Pierson is in charge of store contributions and other committee heads are Mrs. Frederick Rasweiler, Mrs. David Carter, Mrs. Robert Jillson, Mrs. Edward Cross, Mrs. John Trimble, Mrs. Raymond Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas Jamieson Jr., Mrs. Glen B. Miller Jr. and Mrs. Shepard Kimberly II.

Cure For Hypocrisy:.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Recently in your columns (Town Topics, Dec. 12) Mrs. Gary T. Peebles, citing the difficulty of one Negro family in obtaining housing, inquired if we are a town of hypocrites. Today I am happy to report some evidence that this may not be so.

Early last month a young Negro couple, applying for an apartment advertised for rent, was turned away by the landlord, who, though he had expressed support of fair housing practices, found himself reluctant in the face of actuality.

As evidence that the climate of opinion in Princeton is changing fast, the matter did not drop there. Representatives of the Housing Group and PAHR discussed all aspects of the situation with the landlord.

Mayor Patterson took a keen interest and gave graciously of his time and counsel to all parties, doing much to allay the alarm on the one side and the bitterness on the other. The result of all this effort and concern was that the couple is installed in the apartment, to the great credit of the landlord and everyone involved.

Although there may be some hypocrisy on the part of the landlords reluctant to break with outmoded traditions, their fears do appear real to them, and they need our encouragement and the assurance that 73% of Princeton supports integrated housing.

The landlord's yielding shows that Princeton can see the dawning of a new day: it was not necessary for the advocates of human right-for-all to take the battle to the streets, nor did they have to bring out the weapon of economic boycott. As long as we can negotiate in good faith, without touching the outer limits of tolerance, we can truly hope for a model community, reflecting our democratic ideals.

Recreation Supervisor Needed

To The Editor of Town Topics:

. . . For two successive years the Borough Recreation Committee and the Township Recreation Commission have asked that the Borough Council and the Township Committee provide in their budgets for half the salary of a recreational supervisor. Each time the request has been denied.

The local governing bodies were evidently not convinced that this proposal had the support of a majority of Princeton residents. The request will be made again soon. This time it should be honored.

The need for a recreational supervisor has been recognized for almost 20 years. Among the recommendations which followed the completion of a professional survey of recreation opportunities made in 1946 was the "employment of a community recreation executive after the appointment of a recreation commission to further coordinate present efforts and organize supplementary recreation services."

The rapid growth of the Princeton Community has made it more vital than ever that a supervisor for recreation be appointed. It is now possible to secure the legal organizational basis for hiring a recreational director who will take the lead in coordinating volunteer efforts.

At present, budget items are being considered by the Township Committee and the Borough Council. Now is the appropriate time for citizens to let our local officials know the Princeton wishes to pursue with vigor the goals for public recreation which have so long been before us.

"Publicity" Questioned

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am sure I am expressing the minds of most foreign students in Princeton when I remark that the International Student Hospitality Committee has been serving a very useful purpose in helping foreign students to acclimatize in the new environment in which they find themselves. And if I may generalize from the single case of my own American family in Princeton most foreign students find in their families just the affection they need to feel at home here. The Committee is, therefore, truly humanitarian in its operation and, quite sincerely, no word of praise is too much for it.

However, there is one aspect of the Committee's work which I would like to comment upon. Please, the views to be expressed here are not made with any cynical asperity. They are merely intended to correct what, in my opinion, is a draw-back in the noble cause which the Committee is serving.

It is very interesting to read what the various families in Princeton have observed about their foreign students in an article in the 12 Dec. 1963 issue of TOWN TOPICS, page one, captained "Welcome! Come to Our House". There was the interesting case of the student who was wondering how to behave and of the one who was "horrified at the way I talked to my husband".

Of course, still another case of the student who in a truly Napoleonic, military fashion declared: "In Nigeria girls don't talk back". The taciturn, I-know-all African student, who does not ask questions seemed a complex case, "sui generis" to another member family.

PUBLIC LIBRARY WORKS FOR THE FUTURE: The Joint Princeton Library's trustees are devoting many hours toward preliminary plans for the Joint Borough-Township public library scheduled for construction on the corner of Witherspoon and Wiggins Street. At work are, from left: James T. Richmond, vice-chairman of the Library Board and chairman of the trustees' building committee; Miss Margaretta J. Barr, librarian; and Dr. Emerson Greenaway, building consultant to the trustees. Dr. Greenaway, Director of the Philadelphia Free Library and past president of the American Library Association, ranks among the world's outstanding consultants on the planning and construction of library facilities.

All these observations make very pleasant reading. Unfortunately, however, they may tend to cast some doubts on the intentions of the Committee.

More serious still, they damage the cause which the kind families are serving. Admittedly, the American family cannot but "observe" the behavior and attitudes of their foreign student. This is only natural. But I am not sure there is any justification for publicising such observations.

The fact is that when the Committee chooses to publicise their observations on their foreign student the latter may be led to draw the not unnatural conclusion that he is being made a curious object for study. What is more, the very moment you publicise your views about some of his attitudes and behavior, you are at the same time telling him, if only indirectly, that he should be more "cautious" in his self-expression.

Suspicion enters into the relations between you and the foreign student precisely because he is not sure what aspect of his "strange" behavior may next appear in the press. Observations can be legitimately made and indeed the foreign student should be questioned and if possible criticized on some of his views. But I think such observations or criticisms are best kept to the level of personal discussions.

How much the opinions of the foreign student reflect his society is yet another question. For example, the Nigerian student who would prefer to help the man in the family and not the lady reflects, not the general attitude to women in the society from which he comes, but only a gross personal failing. Nor is it true that in Nigeria "girls don't talk back" as if they are dumb, driven cattle.

Foreign students, like everybody else, do have their private opinions even about their own social set-up. Their opinions are, therefore, not to be taken as "ex-cathedra" pronouncements or final judgments on their own society. The temptation to jump to conclusions is great; but I think it can be resisted.

These few remarks are not in any way intended to cast aspersions on the work of the International Student Hospitality Committee. The point I am only emphasizing is that "publicised observations" may jeopardize the Committee's admirable work.

After all, we do observe our friends; but we generally stop short of publicising our views about them. Foreign students are not just "transient" visitors or birds of passage. They are essentially your friends.

OMONIYI ADEWOYE
11 Dickinson Street

(Editor's note: The point of the article was to show the very warm and affectionate relationship that so frequently develops between a foreign graduate student and his Princeton "family." Names of students were intentionally omitted from the story so that their views would not be subject to publicity.

Cultural differences are always absorbing and interesting to people. The American in Nigeria is just as much an object of friendly — and publicized — interest and observation as the Nigerian in America. Princeton residents in particular, have a keen interest in the attitudes and thoughts of people who live in other countries. It is a "positive" interest, based on the deeply felt conviction that by learning to know other peoples and to understand them, one may contribute to international harmony.)

TIGERS MIAMI - BOUND

Hope to Win Tournament. Riding on the crest of Bill Bradley's most spectacular performance of an increasingly amazing basketball career, Princeton's Ivy League quintet will play in the Hurricane Classic this weekend in Miami.

The Tigers will face Syracuse in the opening round Friday, ranking as a clear-cut favorite to meet the winner of the Miami-Army game on Saturday night. Monday will see them in Charlotte, N.C., with Texas as their opponent in the Christmas Tournament in which Davidson and Penn are the other two teams. The final is set for New Year's Eve.

Bradley rewrote two record books Saturday at Lexington, Ky., as Coach Bill van Breda Kolff's Princetonians toppled Wisconsin, a well-regarded title ten team 99 to 87 in overtime. When the Tiger junior hit on 18 field goals and 11 fouls for 47 points, he set three marks.

• The field-goal figure is a record for the Kentucky Invitational, as it is here at Princeton, breaking the 31-year old mark set by Lank Siebert 31, who sees Bradley play here as often as he can.

• The 47 points are both a Kentucky Tournament and a Princeton record seven higher than Bradley's previous high — see box, page 20. Bradley's two-game total of 77 is a third Kentucky Tournament mark, made before capacity crowds of 11,500 which Paul Horowitz of the Newark News reported as "awed by Bradley's spectacular performance."

In winning the see-saw battle with Wisconsin, Princeton put just one other player (sophomore Bob Rodenbach with 16) in double figures compared to five who made ten or more for the Badgers. It was the second time this season that the steadily-improving Rodenbach had hit for double figures after coming into the game as a substitute.

Thirty Points in 25 Minutes. A combination of Bradley's fantastic 30-point second half and improved defensive play won for Princeton against Wisconsin in the last five minutes of regulation time, the Tigers' All-American contributing nine straight points, three times bringing his team even and finally earning a 79-all deadlock to create the extra period.

In overtime Bradley accounted for six of the victors' 11 points in sizzling action which saw the score tied four more times. When Princeton took an 88-87 lead with 1:17 to go, it was the 6-5 junior who directed the freeze and when Wisconsin fouled him in an attempt to gain possession, he converted both tosses on a one-and-one situation to seal the outcome.

The Tigers had a 40-38 halftime lead, but trailed by 56-50 with 15 to go, 68-64 with nine minutes left and still by four, 73-69 with six minutes left. Bradley then staged his one-man show, drawing a tremendous ovation at game's end when he had hit on 18 of 37 floor shots for a virtual 50%, and 11 of 14 free throws.

Princeton had a commendable 44% field goal average, but was no better than 67% (20 for 30) at the foul line. However, the Orange and Black's defensive play occasionally shone brightly as it held Wisconsin to 39% from the floor and at one point in the second half kept the losers scoreless for six minutes.

Wake Forest Wins, 86 to 67. Nothing Princeton did Friday night at Lexington gave indication of Saturday's success. Cold and tight, the Tigers were completely outplayed by a taller, better-manned Wake Forest quintet, losing 86-67 after trailing, 41-26, at the half.

Bradley came up with a fine 30-point performance, but got little help from anyone else as the Tigers shooting average sagged to 34%. Rodenbach banked ten in a losing cause, but no one else had much of an evening.

Biggest disappointment of the two-day affair from the Princeton point of view was sophomore Bob Haarlow, who had been in double figures for the last three games before the tournament. He made only two points in each of the Wake Forest and Wisconsin contests, again creating the problem of inconsistency that may dog the Tigers into the Ivy League race.

The tournament winner was Kentucky, which followed its 108-85 victory over Wisconsin with a 98-75 defeat of Wake Forest. The Tigers' triumph for third place ranked as an upset and raised their record on the season to 5-2.

OLYMPIC TEAM HERE

To Play New Year's Day. An exhibition game featuring the United States Olympic Hockey Team will be played in Baker Rink at 7:30 on January 1. Princeton University and the St. Nicholas Club will provide the opposition in a pair of 30-minute contests.

General admission tickets are $2. The U. S. team, coached by Eddie Jeremiah of Dartmouth, will be the defending champion in the winter games scheduled for Innsbruck, Austria, later this winter.

Princeton's sextet will play two of the east's best teams Friday and Saturday, January 3 and 4, when it meets Clarkson and St. Lawrence in road games. The Tigers raised their season's record to 3-3 last Thursday with an 8-0 whitewash of a weak Hamilton squad in a game played at West Orange. Sophomore Jimmy Mays was the goalie.

HE HOPES TO TAN MIAMI: Bill van Breda Kolff takes his Princetonians to Florida this weekend with plans to win tournament in Miami.

ANDOVER WINS AGAIN

Takes 2d Title in 3 Years. Three lines deep and defensively close to perfection, Andover's eager hockey team won the 16th annual Lawrenceville Tournament last weekend in Baker Rink. The Massachusetts sextet overpowered neighboring Belmont Hill in the Piel Memorial championship game, 6 to 1, on Saturday after opening-round victories against Nichols, 2-1, and Deerfield, 2-0.

Victor here two years ago, when it won all three games without allowing a goal, Andover replaced University of Toronto Schools as the champion. Ford Fraker and Charlie Sampson, Princeton Country Day School alumni, are Andover players—both with two more years to go.

Andover gave up an early goal to Belmont Hill, but before the first period ended had scored three times to take a commanding lead. The victors doubled their margin in the final two periods while shutting down on all of their opponents' scoring efforts through puck control and fine play in the goal.

Taft, which won the consolation championship with two goals in the final minute against Lawrenceville for a 3-2 decision, was greatly aided by the skating of Coley Donaldson of Princeton. He scored three goals, one against Lawrenceville and two in his team's defeat at the hands of Belmont Hill.

One of the surprises of the tournament was the two losses suffered by the 1962 champion, University of Toronto Schools. The Canadians defeated Choate, 3-1, in their first game but were swamped in the semi-finals, 8-1, by Belmont Hill, and then were edged by Deerfield, the following day, 2-1.

The order of finish: Andover, Belmont Hill, Deerfield, University of Toronto Schools, Taft, Lawrenceville, Choate, Nichols. Andover Coach Ted Harrison said after the tournament that if academic commitments do not create a conflict, he and his team will be back next December to defend their title.

PENNINGTON STOPS PDS

Wins on Foul Line. Although there was nothing illegal about the manner in which Pennington High School trounced the Princeton High basketball team here Friday night, 63-44, there was something foul about the way the visitors went about it.

The Bulldogs were extremely tenacious on the free throw line. As a team, they hit on 25 of 33 attempts, a competent 76 percent completion. Pennington's Doug Dutmars, who finished with a game high 26 points, sank 10 of 12 charity tosses, while teammate Bill

Question of the Week

Question: "Who do think will win the playoff game between the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears?

Where asked: Around town

Charles Perpetua Jr., Trenton, counterman for Princeton Motor Parts, Witherspoon St.: If Tittle's right, the Giants will win it — depending on the weather. Tittle has a rough time of it in cold weather; it hampers him quite a bit. The Bears are used to the cold.

Lester Riddick, Trenton, employee of Harold G. Houghton, Princeton builder: I have a feeling the Bears might take it. The Bears don't have an offense to match the Giants' but they have a terrific defensive team. I think it is good enough to stop Tittle. Also, playing out in Chicago will give the Bears some of that old hometown spirit. It helps. It'll be pretty close but I'll say the score will be about 14-10, Bears.

Ben Phillips, Park Avenue, Pennington, research director, Opinion Research Corporation: New York Giants. Y.A. Tittle. That's the only explanation you need. Tittle and the Giant defense make a combination that's pretty hard to beat. I say the Giants will beat the Bears by about 14 points.

Herb Stout, 15 Bank Street, plumbing and heating: The Bears — they have the better team. In the first place, it's going to be too cold for the Giants. There's too much snow out in Chicago for Tittle to throw. The Bears also have a better defense. They're not going to let Y.A. get set on his passing. And if you stop Tittle you stop the Giants. I think the bears are a good two touchdowns better than the Giants — and I'm a Giant fan!

Robert Fenkel, New Brunswick, employee for the Home News: I think the Giants will win. They have the all-round better team. They're reliable. When the going gets tough they come through. They've also got the best quarterback in the league in Tittle. I think the final score will be pretty close though, both teams will be up in the high 20's. The Giants are only one or two touchdowns better than the Bears at the most.

William Stewart, 6 Maple Terrace, truck driver: The Bears are going to win but I'd rather see the Giants take it. I think the Bears' defensive team is a little better than that of Pittsburgh's. I think they'll play a better offensive game, too, against the Giants than the Steelers played last week. And I think the Bears will put a little more pressure on Tittle than Pittsburgh did —they'll have to stop Tittle if they want to win. I think it will be a close game but the Bears should win by one touchdown.

Arthur Jackson, Princeton Junction, Borough patrolman: The Bears. I think they have a better team. They have the best pass defense in the NFL and a strong, all-around defense. Offense: that's the Bear's game — on the ground. All the Giants have is Tittle. What else have they got? Look what happened to them against Pittsburgh without Tittle.

Bill Hussey, Moran Avenue owner of Hussey's Service Station, Nassau Street: I'll go with old Tittle. He sure has the experience. Everyone thought he was washed up about five or six years ago, but he proved he wasn't as old as they thought he was. The Giants by about two touchdowns.

Edmund Cole, 7 Pine Street, retired: The Bears — they have a better defensive team, a better all-round team, in my opinion. I feel they will stop Tittle enough to score more than the Giants. Bears will probably win by 15 points.

John Brown, Pennington, salesman: I think the Giants will win. I think you might say the Giants have come from behind all season. There seems to be a tremendous amount of team spirit among the Giants. It may not win games but it sure gets them keyed up. Tittle will be the deciding factor. He has capable receivers — they can catch anything thrown near them. I say the Giants will win by 10.

Wayne Bennett, Trenton, mover for Bohren's, Princeton Junction: The Giants. Why? Y.A. Tittle, that's why. He'll make or break the game. I pick the Giants by three touchdowns.

Tom Blydenburgh, Edinburg, mover for Bohren's: I don't think it will end in a big score because of the Bears' defense, plus the fact they are playing in Chicago. But I will go with the Giants because they have a good solid ball club and mainly because they have Tittle. If they can stop Tittle, the Bears have a good chance. If the Giants win, I'll say it won't be by more than one touchdown.

Jay Mironov, New Brunswick,

Sports In Princeton

Hager hit on six consecutive one-and-one shots at the end of the game. Between them, they combined for 40 points.

What happened to the Little Tigers, who should have won this one but who now have lost their second in a row? In general, they played woefully sloppy ball, were guilty of a lack of desire and were, unquestionably, the architects of their own defeat.

More pointedly, PHS tried a fast break attack with distressing results. En route, the fast break would invariably fail through either traveling, double dribbling or, most often, poor passing.

Another factor contributing to defeat was the total ineffectiveness of a press employed by the Blue and White in the final period. Once the forte of recent PHS teams the press against the visitors ended with PHS fouling and Pennington increasing its lead by virtue of one-and-one situations.

Finally, and perhaps most damaging to the Little Tiger cause, was their inability to score when it mattered most. For the second outing in a row, PHS failed to score more than six points in the final eight minutes of play. Against Pennington they could muster only four points, while the Bulldogs were ripping the nets for 19.

Waters Paces PHS. Hitting on a variety of shots, co-captain Tom Waters sank 7 of 11 attempts from the floor to score 14 points and lead the PHS attack. It marked the first time Waters has scored more than four points this year and it was by far his best game. Tom also pulled down 15 rebounds, only four less than the entire Pennington team.

Most of remaining PHS scoring was done by Jim Case and Dave Hill, eight points apiece, and Pete Heiberger, seven. Heiberger grabbed eight rebounds as he and Waters helped PHS control the boards. Thus it was a touch ironic that PHS could be so adept in getting the ball but so inept once it had it. It was, in effect, pointing a gun at its own head.

That the Little Tigers would fizzle so completely in the end was not evident in the game. The home team, as in its defeat last week, grabbed an early lead. It was Princeton in front, 14-11, at the end of the first quarter. It increased this margin to 20-13 — its greatest lead — but fell behind, 26-24, at the half. Near the end of the third period, it regained a 39-38 lead, but that was its last effort. From there on it was all Pennington.

Now the Little Tigers break until January 7 for a return match with Hightstown. For coach Tony Brozok, this may be too long or, not conversely long enough. In the interim, PHS must improve its ball handling and beef up an attack which has averaged only 39 points in three contests. If not, the Little Tigers are going to lose some more in '64.

TOWN BEATS GOWN

By One Point. In a game closely fought throughout, the Princeton Y All Stars edged a quintet from the University's Campus Club at the Princeton High gym by the narrow margin of 57-56. Richie Volz' long jump shot from the corner with five seconds remaining decided it.

Neither team was able to pull away. The largest advantage was a 45-40 lead the Campus squad carried into the early moments of the final period.

Although the Y team was an average four inches shorter per man, it offset this disadvantage with a smoth-working fast break, numerous steals and superior play under the boards. Other standouts in victory for the All Stars were Jeff Bullock, John Duncan, Tim Haigh and Lamont Tucker.

BOWLING NOTES

Two "B" League Teams Tied. Despite a 221 game bowled by Fred Procaccini, Kase Kleaners ended last week's competition in a tie for first with the Balestrieri team, 60-60, at the Princeton Recreation Center. High man for Balestrieri was Jerry Perpetua with a 209.

In second place in Princeton's "B" league is the Key Shop with a total of 56. Jugtown Delicatessen is third with 54.

Besides Procaccini and Perpetua, seven bowlers equalled or exceeded the 200 mark. They were: Dan Tamasi, 215; George Drummond, 210; Bob Sculcrati, 209 and 200; Al Hibbard, 207; Joe Baldino, 204; Tony Tamasi, 201; and Frank Delneso 200.

Colonial Restaurant widened its lead in the Three-Man Classic, going eight games up over second-place Turney Motors and Pupps Pro Shop, 29-21. Joe Baldino lead the individual bowlers with a 239 game. Others 200 or over: Mike Basilo, 215 and 210; Val Ranallo, two games at 213; Ernie Hunt, 213; Wilton Rose, 209; Jack Luccy, 202; Joe Ruberto, 201; Bob Ceraso, 201.

In the Nassau League, there is a four-way tie for first place. Tiger Garage, Grover Lumber, Nassau Delicatessen and Princeton Elks are the deadlocked leaders.

High one-game bowler in the league was Elmer Perantoni with a 207. Other 200 were Otto Olsen, 204, and Bob Sculerati, 201.

Jefferson Plumbing moved into first place in the Business Women's League with a total of 62 points, ten points ahead of its nearest rival, Claridge Wine & Liquor. Once again Lillian Burrough was high scorer with a three-game total of 516. Jean McDowall rolled one game of 164 for second high-game score.

Among the Blue Angels, the 10-to-16 age group league, the Sharks and the Tigers are tied with eight wins each, the Wildcats and the Triple C team are second with four apiece.

WANT TO SKI?

Hopewell Run Opens. The Belle Mountain Ski Run, on Valley Road in Hopewell Township, officially opened for use by eager schussers Saturday. Snow-making equipment has been installed, and an adequate base and decent skiing conditions are available to users.

The Mercer County Park Commission says that, in the interest of safety, no sledding at any time will be permitted. Members of a ski patrol unit will be on duty at all times, and a first-aid station is being installed by the county.

Park Commission employees will also be in attendance whenever the slope is used, and the area will be patrolled by police.

Admission fees: for county residents, $1 on weekdays, $2 on weekends and holidays; for non-residents, $2 weekdays, $3 on weekends and holidays; for children under 12, 50 cents and $1 for residents; $1 and $1.50 for junior non-residents.

Question Of The Week

clerk, Tiger Auto Store, Witherspoon Street: The Giants because I think Tittle is a better quarterback than Wade. Tittle was just voted the most valuable player in the league and he proved it against Pittsburgh. The first time without Tittle the Giants were shut out; the second time, they won. I think the Giants will win by two touchdowns.

Samuel G. Davison, Erdman Avenue, Princeton Fire Chief: The Giants — they have a better offense with Tittle. Give Tittle a lot of pass protection and he'll beat you. I think Tittle is the difference. I say the score will be something like Giants 20, Bears 7.

Wallace Holland Jr., Ewing Township, cottage officer, Jamesburg Home for Boys: If it's clear and dry — no snow or mud — where Tittle can handle the ball, then the Giants should win. Tittle's passing is the Giant's attack; he's the difference. But if the ground is frozen, I think the Bears would have a slight edge because they are a better ground team. But if Tittle can throw, that's it. I say the score will be something like 34-14, Giants — if the weather is right.

News Of The CHURCHES

NEW STUDY PROPOSED By First Church Leaders. The session of First Presbyterian Church wants a special commission from the New Brunswick Presbytery to evaluate the needs of Princeton's three Presbyterian churches.

In a letter sent last week to the elders of Second and Witherspoon churches, First Church stated, "We believe that a Presbytery commission could study our common problems in an objective way and help us find the right solution."

The letter, signed by the Rev. Donald M. Meisel, First Church moderator, added the hope that "Second Church will find it possible not to take any irrevocable steps until the suggestion of appointing a Presbytery commission shall have been thoroughly explored." The Second Church congregation meets next month. It will consider a revised estimate of the cost of repairing and refurbishing the sanctuary, a Nassau Street landmark since 1868.

Partial Accord. The First Church session, in studying the union proposal of the Princeton Presbyterian Commission, found many areas of agreement.

"We agree wholeheartedly with the main burden of the report, that our first concern as Christians should be the proper deployment of Presbyterian Christians for a more effective ministry to our community.

"Most of us also approve the plan for physical re-deployment . . . envisaging construction of a new Presbyterian sanctuary on the growing edge of Princeton, perhaps to replace Witherspoon and Second Churches."

"But," The First Church elders did not vote on the merger proposal, put before the three churches by the Commission. Some wanted more time to study the recommendation.

"But many members expressed serious doubts," Dr. Meisel reported in his letter. "The central one, perhaps, being the question whether organizational unity would bring with it such difficult administrative problems and stresses that the result would, in fact, be disarray, disunity and discord.

"To cite only one example, some members pointed out that the result of implementing the Commission's recommendation for merger would be creation of a congregation in which former First Church members would be in a considerable majority.

"This could result in the adoption of a re-deployment plan by a majority of the united congregation which would leave a legacy of bad feeling on the part of former members of Witherspoon and Second Churches. The First Church session wishes very much to avoid such a result."

Higher Court. Second and Witherspoon are asked to join First in requesting New Brunswick Presbytery to appoint a special commission to advise and work with the three churches.

"We assure you that we are eager to continue conversations and want to find the right answers. We would respectfully suggest that it might be wise to spend an additional few months in working with a higher judiciary of the Church on a matter of such monumental importance."

PLAN HOOTENANY

At Fifth Anniversary. A young clergyman who recently presented a jazz mass at Brown University Chapel will lead a "Hootenany" on Sunday in Calvery Baptist Church, Walnut Lane.

The program, set for 4:30 p.m., marks the church's fifth anniversary. The community is invited to take part.

The Rev. Major Johnson, Brown chaplain, will lead the program, which includes a folk sing, and songs of social protest and affirmation. The Rev. Mr. Johnson, a graduate of Princeton University, Class of 1953, is Baptist chaplain to Pembroke College, the Rhode Island School of Design and other colleges in Providence.

WATCH NIGHT SET

By Baptists. The three Baptist churches in Princeton will sponsor a community Watch Night service at 11 p.m. New Year's Eve at First Baptist Church, John and Green Streets.

The Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer of Calvary Baptist will bring the message. Coffee or tea will be served after the service.

The service was planned by the Council of Deacons from the three churches: Pleasant Phox and Carl Brown, First Baptist; George Werner and Fred Taft, Princeton Baptist at Penns Neck; Mrs. Roy S. Vogt and John H. Hayes of Calvary Baptist. Mr. Hayes is chairman of the council.

TO COMBINE SERVICES

On New Year's Eve. The congregations of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church and Witherspoon Presbyterian Church will hold a Watch Night service together on New Year's Eve.

The service, scheduled for 11 p.m. at Witherspoon Church, will be led by the Rev. Albert Tyson Jr. of Mt. Pisgah.

BULLETIN NOTES

Battleground Crusade. The Rev. Olin Hendrix, home secretary of the Far Eastern Gospel Crusade, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Westerly Road Church. The Crusade, started by two servicemen after World War II, has attracted hundreds of veterans to help lead its mission in the Philippines, Cambodia, Japan, Okinawa and other Pacific battlegrounds of World War II.

Race & Creed. The Rev. Albert Tyson Jr. of Mt. Pisgah AME Church will address the Trinity Parish luncheon for college students at 1 p.m. Friday at Pierce Hall, 33 Mercer Street. His topic is "Race Relations."

Career Day. College students, servicemen and young people who have already begun their careers will assist at the Princeton Methodist worship service at 11 this Sunday. Marcia Ramsey will give a brief talk. Carol Clark will lead in prayer, and Robert Burkert will read the Scripture. The young people will be guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Marker at an open house, set for 4 p.m. at the parsonage.

Holiday Hop. Two vocal recording groups and two rock and roll orchestras will be featured at the "Holiday Hop" set for 8:30 p.m. Friday at St. Augustine School, 45 Henderson Road, Franklin Park. The youth committee of the church is sponsor. Admission is $1; refreshments will be served.

GOING BACK in Town Topics

FIVE YEARS AGO

December 25, 1958. Christmas in Princeton in 1958 was not much different from previous Christmases. Princetonians and things Princeton were, per usual, leaving universe-wide marks almost as indelible as those left by Santa's reindeer. Quite appropriately, the blend was a good Christmas blend meshing religion and science.

Reinhold Niebuhr, the eminent Princeton theologian, had been asked to state his convictions regarding what the future might hold in store for mankind. He had said in part "The best one can do is to examine the present for the seeds in it of both the promises and the perils of the future, and to summon the courage and the wisdom to fulfill the promises and avert the perils . . ."

In science, RCA had announced that the orbiting communications relay inside the Atlas space vehicle then circling the earth was using a special tICA-developed radio system. And the Applied Science Corp. of Princeton had engineered tiny transmitters that were being used to send a steady stream of information and tracking signals from the Atlas.

The Princeton Triangle Club's annual Christmas tour to the intellectual boon-docks in 1958 paled by comparison with the trip scheduled for the Westminster Singers, a group composed of choir college alumni. Their itinerary (the tab was being picked up by a special International Program for Cultural Presentations): 50 cities in 20 African countries. Their portfolio of music: everything from American Indian songs to Broadway bil tunes.

TEN YEARS AGO

December 24, 1953. Townspeople and University faculty members of Republican, Democratic and Independent political persuasion had joined in signing a letter to President Eisenhower protesting the lawjunks behavior of Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin.

TOWN TOPICS had made its appearance two issues earlier in 1953 in a 24-page issue, "largest in its eight years of publication." It included in its 1,800 column inches "more than 13,000 words of news and features about the Princeton community, all of them prepared by a staff of five writers."

The comparable issue in 1963, also a record-breaker, reached 64 pages, 5,700 column inches. More than 40,000 words were turned out by the editorial staff.

One out-of-the-ordinary Princeton fan in December, 1953 was Eugene J. Carroll, of Levittown, N. Y. He said that Princeton was his favorite college — and he was exceptionally familiar with most of them. He had just been arrested on a charge of stealing from dormitories on a large number of campuses over the preceding two years.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

December 23, 1948. As in 1963, so also in 1948, Princeton schools and church groups were in the midst of Christmas pageants and candlelight services. Irwin Weiss was directing plans for the eighth annual Christmas Eve carol-singing program in Palmer Square, which would open with free movies for some 1,200 youngsters at The Playhouse.

An eight-room furnished house was advertised for rent, but the ad ended with the all-too-frequent prohibition which insinuates that the existence of youngsters and poodles is equally undesirable: "No children or pets."

The Garden was showing "The Gallant Blade," called by TOWN TOPICS "a somewhat trumped-up melodrama about a war which that one gay bladesman, Larry Parks, averts on his own — good for the moppet matinee trade."

a house at 290 Prospect Avenue, at the corner of Robert Road.

According to the B and D petitioners, the variance is necessary because of the presence of a stream at the back of the property. The request was opposed by all but one of the neighboring property owners.

The decision was deferred in order that B. and D. could stake out the proposed location of the house on the property for the board's consideration. It was felt that the pictures submitted in evidence failed to give an adequate perspective on which to base a decision.

A special meeting of the board will be held on January 8 to consider a request by the federal government to construct an addition to the institute for Defense Analyses at 100 Prospect Avenue. Board action is required before building approval can be given because of the substantial changes planned in general character and layout of the existing structure.

DISCUSSION HELD

Planners, School Board. Representatives of the Township Planning Board, the Borough School and Westminster Choir College met together on Thursday. They were joined by Borough Mayor Henry Patterson.

They discussed fully the grounds for the Township's rejection of plans for the Walnut Lane site where the Borough hopes to build its school. The next step is up to the Choir College and to Richard Bradley, owners of the two parcels of land in question. At Thursday's meeting, Township Planning Board representatives told the Choir College and the Board of Education that the planners were available for consultation at any time.

No date was set for another meeting.

SIX PROMOTED

By Princeton Bank. The promotions of six members of Princeton Bank and Trust Company have been announced by William R. Cosby, president.

John vanZ. Trubee to assistant trust officer, Myles R. Callaghan to assistant secretary, and Harold C. Kimes from secretary and assistant trust officer to secretary and trust officer.

Miss Grace V. Whiteman from assistant treasurer and assistant secretary to assistant vice-president and assistant secretary. George B. McClelland from assistant trust officer to trust officer, and Lionel V. Silvester Jr. from assistant trust officer to trust officer and assistant secretary.

Miss Whiteman will continue as manager of the bank's shopping center office.

HOW ABOUT VASSAR?

Prospects Invited. Girls who are interested in attending Vassar College are invited to a coffee-coke hour Monday at 11 a.m. at the home of Mrs. H. A. Farnum, 315 Nassau Street. Any girl who wishes to attend should notify Mrs. Dean Meyerson, Van Dyke Road.

Some girl from the Princeton area will benefit from the $2,000 which the Vassar Club of Central New Jersey earned through its Scholarship Ball. The sum was announced this week by Mrs. Felton L. Gibbons, chairman of the affair.

"Y" HERE WE COME!

The Men and the Boys. Contemplatives who like chess and actives who like gymnastics will both have it their way when the YMCA opens its winter session of classes.

Classes in various crafts, physical fitness for third graders, gym-cum-swim classes and father-son Indian Guides are all part of the scheme at the "Y".

Special interest clubs are offered in riflery, Trampoline, science, wrestling, radio, aero rockets, chess, judo, Scuba and weight - lifting. Third - graders may become physically fit by taking the classes at Valley Road School on Saturdays at 9 a.m.

For adults, the "Y" offers a co-ed badminton club, men's volleyball, men's informal basketball, golf, judo, squash, Trampoline, co-ed fencing and a class in exercise for men.

Scuba and skin-diving will be offered to men and women over the age of 17, and recreational swimming will be open to all on a schedule available from the "Y".

An adult art class in oil water-color and a Symphonic Chamber Orchestra will meet Wednesday evenings. The Duplicate Bridge Club, Chess Club, Men's Ping Pong Club and French Club will all meet, and there will be horseback riding, classes in safe boating and weekend events scheduled by the Co-ed Outing Club.

Details are available from the YMCA, Avalon Place.

MRS. MULVEY RESIGNS

After 25 Years. Mrs. Thomas A. Mulvey has informed Township Committee that she will retire as deputy tax collector on June 30, 1964.

Mrs. Mulvey has served the Township for 25 years. She was director of welfare as well as deputy tax collector until the state passed a law forbidding one municipal officer from holding two jobs. Mrs. Mulvey has also been clerk for the Board of Health.

Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman, in announcing Mrs. Mulvey's retirement, said that the Township tax office had been a model of efficiency under her administration.

HATS, TENNIS, CHARM

In YWCA Classes. How to create your own millinery (and how to cover your shoes to match) will be the subject of a class at the YWCA this winter. Registration for all classes will be held January 2 from 8-10 p.m.; January 3 from 9 to 5 and January 4 from 9 a.m. to noon.

Sewing, gourmet cooking, home decoration and recorded playing will also be offered. Tennis workouts will be included in the curriculum, and so will ski-conditioning classes and ice-skating instruction. As an inducement to redecement, the YWCA will offer a free swim to women who sign up for slimnastics.

"Charm Unlimited" is designed for teen-agers. It will be conducted by Mrs. John Sutherland, who has been a model and fashion designer and has lived and traveled in 23 foreign countries. She will demonstrate make-up and hair setting, good grooming and good manners.

For the mothers of very young children (eight weeks), the "Y" will have an exercise-swim program to help mother get back in shape again. While class is in session, the baby will be cared for at the "Y" by a graduate nurse.

Young girls in grades two through five may sign up for a new class in "Creative Arts" taught by Mrs. Peter Loret, Princeton artist. Classes in puppetry and play production will be given, too, and for the very youngest, there will be the usual music workshop.

Red Cross advanced first aid, and a refresher course for instructors in Red Cross water safety (this one for men and women both) will be on the "Y"'s winter schedule.

BUILDING NAMED

In Dormitory Complex. The fifth building in Princeton University's undergraduate complex on College Road has been named for the Class of 1922. The five dormitories, costing a total of $23 million, will accommodate 324 students.

The decision to honor the class was based on its record of service to the University, President Robert F. Goheen said. The action was taken by the board of trustees.

Nine members of the class are serving or have served as board members and four have been nominated for alumni trustee. Eleven members were regional chairmen of committees in the $53 million capital gifts campaign.

The dormitory is being erected slightly to the southeast of Lourie-Love Hall. The other three buildings have been named for the Classes of 1940, '41 and '42.

Say "Happy 300" January 1

Proclamations issued by Mayor Fairman of the Township and Mayor Patterson of the Borough have designated January 1 as Tercentenary Day in both municipalities.

"Let the greeting of the day be 'Happy 300,'" they proclaim, "and let it be known that the people of Princeton join all Jerseymen in beginning this first statewide celebration by bringing to the attention of the nation and the world the contributions it has made to the dynamic store of the states and the New Jersey Tercentenary."

Happy New Year!

ASTRO A NIPS ASTRO B

In Industrial Basketball. In the closest game of the season so far, RCA's Astro "A" defeated its counterpart, Astro "B" 36-33, last week in the Princeton High gym. The victory left Astro A only a half-game behind league-leading American Cyanmid in the YMCA Research and Industrial Basketball League.

Top scorer in the contest was Astro A's Phil Moody with 11 points. In other league meetings, Joe Patnick hit for a game-high 20 points to lead Educational Testing Service to a 66-35 decision over Princeton Hospital. Ted Kennedy and Ed Riddick tallied 14 each for the losers. Winless RCA Labs failed to help its cause when it forfeited to Western Electric.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Cyanamid	4	0	1 000
Astro A	4	1	.800
ETS	3	1	.750
Astro B	2	2	.500
Western Elec.	2	2	.500
RCA Labs	0	4	.000
Hospital	0	5	.000

SEIJA, MICHAAN PLACE

In Olympic Fencing Tryout. Hun School junior Ted Seija and Steve Michaan, a freshman at Lawrenceville, finished in a three-way tie for fourth place in the finals of the New Jersey Junior Olympic Fencing Squad tryouts held last week at Tenafly High School. In all, 40 competitors from nine schools participated in the foil and sabre tournament.

Seija and Michaan each won four and lost four in the final round. However, on the basis of touches scored against them, Michaan came in fourth with 28 touches and Seija, fifth, with 29. Michaan was the only freshman to reach the finals.

Obituaries

Foster D. Jemison, 63, of 631 Lake Drive, died suddenly at his home on Friday. He was the husband of Alice S. Jemison.

A life-long resident of Princeton, he was secretary-treasurer of B.L. Gulick Jr. and Co., Inc., an insurance firm with which he had been associated since 1926. He was a graduate of Peddie School, of which he was a member of the board at the time of his death, and a graduate of Bucknell University.

President of the Princeton Shrine Club, Mr. Jemison was also a member of Princeton Lodge 38, F. and A.M., Crescent Temple of Trenton, and of Trinity Church. In addition to his wife, he is survived by two cousins.

The funeral was held at All Saints Chapel, the Rev. Dr. Robert H. Spears Jr. officiating. Interment was in Penns Neck Cemetary.

Contributions in Mr. Jemison's memory may be made to the Princeton Shrine Club Memorial Fund, c/o William B. Aiman, 189 Longview Drive, Princeton.

Mrs. Princella Hanger Collins, 89, a resident of Princeton for half a century, died December 22 in Washington, D.C. Her late husband, V. Lansing Collins, was for many years secretary of Princeton University.

Born in Richmond, Va., Mrs. Collins was educated in Washington and came to Princeton to live shortly after her marriage in 1903. Mr. Collins began his career at Princeton as its librarian and taught in the Department of Modern Languages before his appointment as secretary. He served in that capacity until his retirement in 1934.

Mrs. Collins lived at the Peacock Inn until several years ago, when she joined her son, V. Lansing Collins, Jr., in his travels as a member of the Department of State. She had been with him and his wife in Rome and in Ankara, Turkey.

Mr. Collins, now living in Washington, is Director of Central American and Panamanian Affairs for the Department of State. Three grandchildren also survive.

A graveside service will be held Friday at 12:30 in Princeton Cemetery, with the Rev. Ernest Gorden, Dean of the Princeton University Chapel, officiating. Arrangements here are under direction of The Mather Funeral Home.

Russell H. Smith, 85, of 12½ Vandeventer Street, died December 18 in Princeton Hospital. He was the oldest member of Hook & Ladder Fire Company No. 1.

Mr. Smith was born in Reaville and was a retired barber. He had served as secretary for the Exempt Firemen's Association and was a member of Nassau Lodge 106 of Odd Fellows.

The husband of the late Belle P. Smith, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Rebecca VanSelver of Princeton, and nieces and nephews.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. F. Hugh Lifliton of Second Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was at the convenience of the family.

Robert C. Perrine, 79, of 22 Vandeventer Avenue, died on Saturday at Princeton Hospital. An elder of The Second Presbyterian Church, Mr. Perrine was born in Kingston and lived in Princeton for 40 years.

He was a member of the Junior OUAM, Royal Arcanum and Odd Fellows Lodge. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Eva T. Perrine, a son, Robert W., of Princeton; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Martin, of Charleston, W. Va., a sister, Mrs. Edward B. Warren, and a brother, Harold Perrine, both of Princeton, and three grandchildren.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home with the Rev. F. Hugh Liffiton of Second Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Peter LaBeur, 76, died on Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Patrick V. Markey, Brunswick Pike with whom he lived. He had been a foreman for the Paterson parchment Paper Co., in Bristol, Pa.

Mr. LaBeur was a life member of the Garfield Fire Department. In addition to his daughter, he is survived by a son, David L., of Morrisville, Pa.

The funeral was held in Trenton with interment in Ridgelawn Cemetery, Passaic Park.

James L. Blackwell, 88, a resident of Hopewell for 48 years and a retired farmer, died in Trenton on Friday evening after a long illness. He was a member exempt of the Hopewell Fire Department.

He is survived by his wife, Eva B. Blackwell; two sons, Wilson, of Flemington, and James L. Jr., of White Horse; a daughter, Mrs. Clara B. Horner of Hopewell; a sister, Mrs. William Sked, of Pennington; five grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Hopewell. Interment was in the Old School Baptist Cemetery.

Topics Of The Town

council discussed methods for bringing in "city" water — a step which the residents consider to be urgent. The area in the southern part of the township, according to reports, suffered heavily from last summer's drought.

Among the methods reviewed at the meeting were water systems involving deep wells, piping from North Brunswick's lines and the use of the Elizabethtown Water Co. The lowest cost proposal was for a 6-inch main down Route 27 to the Princeton Township line.

Those attending the meeting recommended to mayor and council that more complete studies be made on the subject, with an additional meeting to be held in the near future.

ETS OFFICER NAMED

Solomon Is Vice President.

Robert J. Solomon of 51 Braeburn Drive has been appointed vice-president of Educational Testing Service.

Mr. Solomon had been director of the firm's test development division. He succeeds Dr. Robert L. Ebel, who resigned to accept an appointment at Michigan State University.

Dr. Henry Chauncey, president of ETS, made the announcement of the promotion. He said that Mr. Solomon would assume responsibility for test development, statistical analysis operations and several major testing programs.

In 1952, Mr. Solomon joined ETS as a member of the social studies section in the test development division. He was named assistant director of the division in 1957 and director three years later. He was on the faculty of New York University before joing the testing organization.

Mrs. Solomon is a teacher at the Valley Road School in the Township. The Solomons have three sons, Neal, Eric and Mark.

INTERESTING POSITION
OPEN SOON

TOWN TOPICS will have a position in its Advertising Department open early in 1964. Duties involve planning display advertisements with Princeton area merchants including copy-writing and layout. Previous experience helpful but not essential—if we feel you have the right qualities and you like working "on the outside" with people, we will train you.

This is not a "9 to 5" job—hours will vary depending on day of the week. Compensation ranges from time off for extra hours worked to steady salary increases based on performance, annual bonuses and participation in company profit-sharing plan.

Applicants should write rather than call, giving brief resume on employment and biographical facts, marital status, date of availability and salary requirements. We are interested in discussing the position with both men and women.

Nassau Estates II

New office location at 2914 Princeton Pike opposite Lawrence Elementary School. We have Ranchers, Colonials, Splits and Bi-Levels to select from.

Investigate the advantages of living in Nassau Estates. First of all, the tax rates are much less than Princeton proper. You would pay thousands of dollars more for comparable homes in the Borough of Princeton. We have the home you desire at the price you want to pay. You acquire all the big city advantages — city sewers, water, boulevard streets, sidewalks — all at Nassau Estates. Shopping, Schools, Churches and Temples are nearby.

PRICES START AT $19,700

INTERESTING POSITION
OPEN SOON

TOWN TOPICS will have a position in its Advertising Department open early in 1964. Duties involve planning display advertisements with Princeton area merchants, including copy-writing and layout. Previous experience helpful but not essential—if we feel you have the right qualities and you like working "on the outside" with people, we will train you.

This is not a "9 to 5" job—hours will vary depending on day of the week. Compensation ranges from time off for extra hours worked to steady salary increases based on performance, annual bonuses and participation in company profit-sharing plan.

Applicants should write rather than call, giving brief resume on employment and biographical facts, marital status, date of availability and salary requirements. We are interested in discussing the position with both men and women.

DODGE DART, 1960 Leaving country, must sell 921 7450

I believe the memories of November 1963, will remain raw and saddening for a long time I know the events made me examine my conscience and responsibilities In those grim moments, the great dignity of our people was a comfort and a strength The handling of news was direct and real. It was a hurt but mature nation that buried our President The crisis revealed many things about us to ourselves We have many close and powerful strengths between us all It was a steadying reassurance to see our representatives conduct themselves as they did It made you realize the strength of this country, and be proud each party belonged to the whole country Our men are worthy of the trust we place in them I believe our country is stronger today than it ever has been John Fitzgerald Kennedy's monument is something he gave to us
JOHN GUINNESS

Person To Person

Cory S. Kommler

We heard of a recipe for a Happy New Year which we thought you'd enjoy "Do not attempt to make up the whole batch at one time, for it works best if you work on just one day at a time Into each day put twelve parts of confidence, eleven of patience, ten of grit, nine of elbow grease, eight parts of faith, seven of hope, six of charity, five of kindness, four of prayer, three of rest, two of meditation, and one carefully selected resolution. Then put in about a cupful of good spirits, a dash of fun, a pinch of folly, a jigger of laughter, a sprinkling of play, and a heaping cupful of good humor Cook thoroughly in a fervent heat, garnish with a lot of smiles, a sprig of joy, then serve quietly with unselfishness and cheerfulness . . . and a Happy New Year is a CERTAINTY" The above is adapted from a radio program put on quite a while ago by Enid Day. . . . We think we'll paste it up where we can see it often. And believe us, our very best wishes go out to you for the best year ever! WE NOMINATE

Samuel Edgar Copner, the equivalent of an "institution within an institution" and one of the most respected public servants in the ever-growing Princeton Area, who this week is retiring from the United States Postal Service upon the conclusion of 36 years, three months and three days of dedicated service. While the 58-year old Copner's career does not constitute any kind of local longevity record, he has symbolized for scores of residents of the seven municipalities served by the Princeton Post office the kind of quiet, unsung and highly efficient career service which all too often is taken for granted.

The two decades Copner has held forth as Assistant Postmaster, first under Stephen W. Margerum and in recent years with Charles F. Murray, present excellent documentation of the development of Princeton and its environs. Year by year (with the possible exception of Christmas, 1963, that is belatedly climbing towards last year's Yuletide volume and may be the "lightest Christmas in 5-6 years") the pattern has been one of boom growth. Starting in 1934, the year the Postoffice moved from 96 Nassau Street to its present headquarters on Palmer Square, the local office — now spread through two widely separated buildings — has seen its annual dollar volume skyrocket from $115,000 to nearly $2,000,000 for 1963.

Almost wistfully Copner recalls the early years in what was once "a fairly peaceful place" when, on window duty, he and his associates would know every face in "the Christmas lines". The slower-paced Princeton of the 1920's was served by a postal force of 17 persons, including a total of seven carriers. In 1963 Copner is leaving a major government installation, which annually produces more airmail letters and packages than the city of Trenton and is manned by a staff of 38 regular mail-carriers, ten additional "substitute carriers", and 37 full-time postal clerks.

From his high school years in Hopewell, a period that found him combining studies with jobs before and after school, Copner had been interested in the Postal Service. The son of a rural mail carrier, whom he assisted during vacations, he initiated his application in the spring of 1926 and the following September was appointed substitute clerk. Promotions came all too slowly, particularly in the pre-World War II era, but it was "while clerking" in the 1930's that Copner accumulated his encyclopedic knowledge of postal operations and developed the memory one of his colleagues calls "fantastic."

For Copner, a former chief of the Hopewell Volunteer Fire Department and a member of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church, the months immediately ahead represent long-sought opportunities for relaxation, limited travel and conceivably time for re-finishing old furniture. Subsequently, once he has become accustomed to "being out of the routine that has been my life" ever since he gave up his first post-high school job in "Lee Butler's radio-bicycle-and-automobile store here on Nassau Street", he will take another hard look at the future and may well indeed "start all over again" —but on a less demanding schedule.

For his sense of devotion and duty in a complex and exacting occupation: for his enthusiasm for all things bearing upon the well-being of the Princeton he knows so intimately: for emphasizing, on the threshold of retirement, Princeton's crying need for a new, and adequate postoffice: he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as
